

b. Agriculture as main occupation:

Harda is an agriculture district; there is no any existence of industry, only some insignificant cottage industries are available. Mainly working population are cultivator (kashtkar) and agriculture labour.

Cultivator is those who done agriculture work on the rented land that take from then any person/institute/government. According to census 2001 the 40% cultivator of the total working population in the harda, in which maximum percentage in khadakiya, that is 47%. Male and female cultivators are equal percentage in harda.³

Agriculture labour is that person who received his wages in cash or goods from the agriculture work done on the land of any other person. The number of agriculture labour total is 40.5% of total cultivators in harda.³

1.8% cottage industry (small business) of the total working population in harda, so agriculture is the most important base of the social and financial position of harda and 80% working population is depend on the agriculture. (3. Source: <http://www.harda.nic.in>)

